Temperature Blanket Crochet Pattern 2027

Free crochet pattern + color key · mardingezituru.com

A temperature blanket is a year-long project: every day you crochet one row in the color that matches that day's temperature. By the end of 2027 you have a striped record of the whole year, cold blues in winter, warm reds in summer.

This version is one row of single crochet a day in DK yarn, about 10 minutes of work. It comes out about 36 x 66 in / 92 x 169 cm, a long throw that fits a single bed.

A few months in: one row a day, mostly cool colors so far.

Pattern at a glance

- Skill level: beginner (sc in rows, color changes)
- Size: about 36 x 66 in / 92 x 169 cm (365 rows)
- Yarn: DK (light worsted / 3) acrylic in 12 colors, about 3832 yd / 3504 m in total; each row takes about 9.6 m / 10.5 yd
- Hook: 4 mm (US G/6)
- Gauge: 22 sc x 22 rows = 4 in / 10 cm in back loops
- Time: about 10 minutes a day

How much of each color?

That depends on where you live. Look up last year's daily highs for your town, count the days in each band below and multiply by 9.6 m. As a rough guide, buy 3 balls of the 4 colors for your most common temperatures and 1 or 2 balls of the rest.

Color key (daily high temperature)

Change the bands to suit your climate: in a warm place, shift every band up 10 °F so you use all 12 colors.

Abbreviations (US terms)

• ch chain · sc single crochet · blo back loop only

Before you start

• 2027 is not a leap year: 365 rows, January 1 to December 31.
• Keep a log (a notebook or a phone note) with the date, the temperature and the color, so you can catch up after a busy week.
• When the next row is the same color, just keep going. When it changes, finish the last stitch of the row with the new color.
• Weave in tails every week; 365 rows can mean a lot of ends.

The pattern

Blanket

Color: start with A (temperature colors).

Ch 201. Row 1 (January 1) starts in the 2nd ch from the hook.

- ☐ Row 1: Sc across. (200)
- ☐ Rows 2–365: Ch 1 turn, BLO sc across. (200)

Finish: Ch 201 and work R1 (January 1) into the 2nd ch from the hook; change color at the end of a row when the next day's color is different.

Finishing

On January 1, 2028, work one round of sc in navy or a neutral color all around, with 3 sc in each corner. A second round makes the edges straight.

Tips

- Smaller blanket: chain 141 for a 25 in / 64 cm wide lap blanket; it uses about 70% of the yarn.
- Month markers: work the first row of each month in sc through both loops; it makes a thin line you can see.
- Behind? Catch up on the weekend; nobody can tell which rows were made on the day.

FAQ

High or average temperature?

Most people use the daily high because it is easy to find. Pick one and keep it for the whole year.

Can I start late?

Yes. Look up the past days' temperatures and catch up, or start on the first of any month and run for 12 months.
